Tex	tile and Clothing Manufacturing Cooperative
3.	the Rajin Cotton Clothing Manufacturing Cooperative moved into three buildings which had formerly been occupied by a primary school. The factory building was in a mountain valley at FB-095766. This building had mud walls and a tin roof. There were two other buildings of similar construction immediately east of the factory.
4.	The factory building housed 7 machines for weaving cotton cloth, 3 stocking weaving machines, 1 glove manufacturing machine, 1 machine for manufacturing undershirts, 5 machines for separating strands of thread, and 10 silk spinning machines. The factory produced a daily average of 80 yards of rayon, 9 dozen pairs of socks, 1 dozen women's undershirts, and 3 dozen pairs of gloves. The goods were sold to the public through the Najin Consumers Guild.
5.	The staff of this cooperative included an unidentified chief, Production Chief, YI Pyong-nam (2621/0014/3948) and Chief Accountant CH'AE Chun-muk (5591/0193/7817) There were 40 women workers.
